1.7 Russian Theatre

After sold out performances of “Love in a Nutshell”, Xameleon Theatre is back with its next production, “The Marriage of Figaro” by Beaumarchais. The play is running on 19, 20, 21, and 22 January 2017 at The Cockpit Theatre, Marylebone and is performed in Russian with English subtitles.

Written around the time of French revolution, this play has been performed all over the world and even served as an inspiration for Mozart’s opera of the same name. Rather than adapting the story of Figaro into an opera or a musical, Russian director Alexia Mankovskaya is instead focusing on the timeless humour and dynamics of the original comedy by Beaumarchais.

This play brought to life by great ensemble of Russian actors is a hilarious and very modern tale of desire, hypocrisy, love, and politics unwinding in the course of one mad day.

Director: Alexia Mankovskaya
Assistant Director: Konstantin Kamensky
Lighting designer: Yuri Galkin
Executive Producer: Vlada Lemeshevskaya
Stage Manager: Ekaterina Krasilnikova

Cast: Vadim Bogdanov, Vlada Lemeshevskaya, Oleg Hill, Alexia Mankovskaya, Irina Kara, Oleg Sidorchik, Nikita Zabolotny, Maria Blatstein, Artur Gorelikov

Duration: 2 hours 30 min (with interval)

Ticket price: £22

3.5 Help needed with the "Big Match", a student charity campaign

Oxford University students involved with the society Giving What We Can: Oxford are asking for donations for a fundraising campaign running for the fortnight between 23rd February and 8th March. The campaign is called the Big Match and is a donation-matching scheme to raise money in support of the Against Malaria Foundation (AMF) – rated by GiveWell as one of the world's most effective charities – by getting students involved in donating.

Throughout the fortnight, there will be a range of events for students and opportunities for them to support the campaign. Every pound donated by a student will be matched, doubling the donation, by a pound from the "matching pot" which we are raising money for in advance of the campaign. Last year the Big Match Campaign managed to raise over £10,000 for the Against Malaria Foundation. This year we are aiming to raise £30,000 in total.

If you are interested in contributing to the matching pot or otherwise supporting this great initiative, please get in touch with Robert Pepper (robert.pepper@some.ox.ac.uk) or donate directly through the matching pot page: <https://www.AgainstMalaria.com/MatchingPotOxford2017>.

3.7 Programs in Cultural Diplomacy (Enrolment for Spring Semester 2017)

It is our pleasure to introduce you to our BA, MA & PhD programs in International Relations; Global Governance; Euro-Mediterranean Studies; European Studies; International Economics & Business; and Business Administrations with Specialization on Cultural Diplomacy.

We at the Centre for Cultural Diplomacy Studies have worked intensively to design innovative BA, MA & PhD programs that provide a unique approach to international relations, global economics, intercultural relations, globalization, global governance, art and culture. We believe that the traditional academic components of a degree in these fields must adapt to our rapidly changing world. To that end, our approach to contemporary global affairs and economics focuses on issues such as cultural diplomacy, soft power, human rights, fair trade, sustainability and environmental issues which play increasingly important roles.

The programs are pioneering, unique and innovative in their content and approach and offer a professional development semester in cultural diplomacy and related fields. For students with an interest in foreign policy, international affairs, cultural diplomacy, political science, or international economics, the programs provide a platform from which students can gain hands-on experience and high-level knowledge and relationships; equipping students with the tools to launch their career even before the completion of their studies.

Enrolment Dates for the Academic Year 2017:

Spring Semester 2017 (starting April 11th 2017) – deadline: January 15th 2017.

Apply Now »

Applications for the BA, MA, MBA & PhD programs are accepted on a rolling basis throughout the entire year; however it is strongly encouraged, that potential students apply as early as possible due to limited class sizes.

4.3 DW International Traineeship

Deutsche Welle <<http://www.dw.com/en/top-stories/s-9097>>, Germany's international broadcaster, runs an international journalist trainee scheme for native speakers of English and German.

The scheme is 18 months long, starting in September 2017. It is based in Germany (Bonn and Berlin), with stints abroad in the Washington, Brussels or Moscow bureaux. Successful candidates will receive training in all areas of multimedia journalism, as well as completing work placements in different editorial departments. This is a paid programme and can lead to a job with DW.

Candidates should have journalism experience or be passionate about switching to journalism. Good working knowledge of English and German is essential.
